data-fix.Former president George H. W. Bush will be the first sitting president to lay a wreath at the tomb of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower in 2017. Bush made the announcement in a press statement: My wife Barbara and I will be participating in the funeral services on Jan. 3, 2017, at the National World War II Memorial. I will be delivering a eulogy at that event and we will also be visiting with the troops, their families, and many other visitors who gathered outside the memorial to pay their respects.
Our goal is to support the troops and their families for the coming year and continue the healing process. In his own statement, Bush said: "Dwight D. Eisenhower: The Life and Legacy of Our 36th President." The life and legacy of Dwight D. Eisenhower, the 34th President of the United States, was the subject of a new exhibit at the National World War II Memorial. Click here to read Bush's press release. RELATED: George H.W. Bush to be first sitting
