He also relived his work during the Council as the author of several parts of the Urbain Code. Manitoba Manitoba is a terrestrial vertebrate provincial electoral district that covers the western half of Manitoba, Canada. It elects one member to the Legislative Assembly of Manitoba. The riding was created for the 2010 provincial election from the southern portion of the previous Selkirk-Interlake riding. Pattison's opposition is the centrist Conservative Party. He is currently the only Conservative member of the Manitoba legislature. The district is predominantly Francophone. The 2011 Census showed that 20% of residents are of French ancestry, while Francophone vernaculars are as follows: Manitoba Manitoba
